SS.7.C.2.9
Evaluate candidates for political office by analyzing their qualifications, experience, issue-based platforms, debates, and political ads.

Qualifications for office - The Constitution doesn't say a candidate has to have any education or experience - it's up to the voters to determine if a candidate is good for the job.

Here are some things to consider:

Age, background, experience > education
> experience - military, business, government > civic activity - community organizations, leadership roles, etc.

Do you have confidence in this candidate? (Inspiring speaker, logical thinker, mature judgement, etc)

Do you agree with the candidate on various issues?